Railroad workers to vote Republican

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
Brotherhood of Maintenance Way Employees spokesman David Marquar reported that for the first time in more than 20 years, railroad workers will vote Republican come the Fifth District congressional election this fall.

"Railroad workers of Local 916 have voted to endorse Billy Hewes. We feel like he will listen to the concerns of the working people. He has voiced intent to assist, in particular, with the recent President's Emergency Board (PEB) decision for the elimination of district seniority."

Marquar said the Hewes endorsement is a direct result of dissatisfaction with present Fifth District Congressman Gene Taylor.

"Taylor blew it with the railroad workers when he voted against the right to strike. Taking that bargaining power away, you might as well not have a union."

"Another hot point was Taylor's vote of approval for the President's Emergency Board decision."

Prior to the PEB decision, railroad workers were designated jobs within districts. Job entitlement by seniority was limited to within one's district.

The elimination of district seniority, which became effective this January, was a part of the PEB decision, Marquar

To beat or not to beat?

Supervisors say they like unit system

BY TRACI BONNEY

While the State Legislature contemplates a proposal to give voters the right to bring back the beat system of county government, local supervisors have mixed feelings about the matter.

In 1988, voters were given a choice following Operation Pretense, which uncovered widespread abuse throughout the state by supervisors of their powers. Each county was given an option to replace the beat system, in which individual supervisors had charge of purchasing and road crews for each beat; with the unit system, which turned beats into districts and centralized the road and bridge maintenance department.

A separate measure required all counties to centralize their purchasing.

Chancery clerk Mike Necaise explained that the unit system gave the supervisors more time for long-range county planning by relieving them of the day-to-day road and bridge operations. Their main duties now, he said, are to set millage and the budget, to maintain contact with their constituents and to deal with planning matters.

The unit system has not saved the county money in the short term, he said, because of the added employees needed to centralize the pur-

Career/college night set at HHS

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The 1992 career/college night for area students will be Tuesday, Feb. 25, at Hancock High School, Stennis Drive.

John Kolodziej is coordinator for the event, which is sponsored by Bay High, Hancock High, Our Lady Academy, Pass Christian, and St. Stanislaus high schools.

"All students are welcome and urged to come. At 5:30 p.m. college representatives will be available in Hancock's Commons Area to talk to students," Kolodziej added.

The theme of the 1992 career/college night is, "Look at education shine."

Career presentations will be made in the Junior High School section at 6:30 and 7:30 p.m.

Presentations will be available in accounting, banking, computer science, cosmetology, dentistry, drafting and design, education engineering and fire fighting.

Other careers include human resources management, journalism, law, law enforcement, medicine, nursing, real estate and property management, restaurant and hotel management, retail merchandising, science, technical services and vocational and television broadcasting.

Kolodziej is an engineering manager for Sverdrup Technology Inc., at Stennis Space Center, and he and his company are involved in the Adopt-A-School program.

Guides will be available to assist those in attendance to hear the various presentations.

Kolodziej emphasized, the career/college night is for all students, regardless of grade, as it is important for youth to set plans for their future at an early age.

Last year some 250 students took advantage of the career/college night and Kolodziej is hoping this figure will increase substantially this year.

Alternative sewer plan sought for Waveland area

BY JANET MCQUEEN

The high cost of extending sewerage to homes in Wave-land's Third Ward prompted the Board of Aldermen to halt plans on a split vote of 2-2.

Mayor Stella Frilot cast the swing vote Wednesday night to send notice to former city planner Ray Eaton to discontinue plans for the design phase of the project.

Eaton completed a facility plan on Waveland's unsewered area as a preliminary step to applying for a grant to fund the project. The facility plan, which cost $35,000, can be used as a starting point in future grant applications, said Frilot. Cost estimates for extending sewer

Supervisors re-appoint Lang to Community Action board

BY TRACI BONNEY

The board of supervisors re-appointed Geraldine Lang to her position as their representative on the Community Action Agency board Friday.

Lang's term as a CAA board member is about to expire. The supervisors said they were pleased with her service to the county on the board, and glad to re-appoint her.

CAA spokesman Doyle Moffett also attended the meeting, and gave the supervisors copies of the organization's annual report for their review.

GARBAGE DISPOSAL

A number of Jourdan River Shores residents attended the meeting to register their displeasure with the removal of the open top dumpsters from their neighborhood.

The supervisors defended their decision and explained once again that because garbage disposal costs are running over the budgeted amount, the county must reduce services. The supervisors also reminded the residents that Jourdan River Shores is about 3 1/2 miles from a convenience center.

Call to action

Hancock Chamber of Commerce prepares for big anti-litter campaign

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The message will be going out. Tossing trash in Hancock County will no longer be tolerated.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce sponsored anti-litter and beautification committee gathered Thursday to discuss, "How to make Hancock County litter free by '93."

Among the 20 individuals gathered several new faces were recognized. Committee chairman Ellis Cuevas asked everyone to introduce themselves.

Each person took a turn, saying their name and reason for attending, when suddenly, one after one it was said, "Mary Smith, I live here. Tom Johnson, I live here...and on and on. 'I live here,' was repeated.

Pride in their homes, pride in their community, was the reason these new faces came to join in the coming battle against litter.

Plans being drawn involved: —Advertisement, billboards warning against litter at every major entrance into Hancock County, 200 anti-litter signs to be placed wherever people gather, newspaper announcements, flyers to be distributed;

—Marketing, presentations to every school and civic group willing to listen, promotion of adopt a street areas;

—Beautification and maintenance, planting along medians and intersections, landscaping of Human Resources Center, convenient placement of trash receptacles;

—Recycling, initiation of home compost programs and yard waste management, cor-

OBITUARIES

CHARALENE F. JOHNSON ANNIE THORPE

Charalene Francis Johnson, infant daughter of Larry and Nora Johnson Sr. of Bay St. Louis, died Monday, February 17, 1992, in Gulfport.

In addition to her parents, survivors include two brothers, Larry Johnson Jr. and Anthony D. Johnson of Bay St. Louis; a sister, Roselliera Johnson of Bay St. Louis; and her grandparents, Earl and Dolores Saucier of Long Beach, and Charles LaFontaine and Louise and Bill Terry, all of Bay St. Louis.

Visitation was at Riemann Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis. Burial was in St. Paul Cemetery in Pass Christian.

ANNIE THORPE

Annie Thorpe, 88, of Waveland died Friday, February 21, 1992, in Bay St. Louis.

A native of Alabama, she was a Baptist and had been a resident of Waveland for 20 years.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Ben and Sally Warren Somerset; and a daughter, Polly Thorpe.

Survivors include a son, Bob Thorpe of Waveland; a sister, Freddie Somerset Davis of Darien, Ga.; two grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

A graveside service will be Monday, 11 a.m., at the Gardens of Memory Cemetery, with Riemann Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis in charge of arrangements.

St. Rose Choir featured in Black History program

"African Roots Explore New Worlds: Pre-Columbus to Space Age" is the theme of the 13th annual Black History program at John C. Stennis Space Center.

The program, sponsored by the space center's Association for Cultural Awareness, will start at 9 a.m. Thursday in the Visitors Center auditorium. The public is invited.

There will be sessions in the morning (9 a.m.-noon) and afternoon (1-4 p.m.). Rev. Barry Brandon, pastor of Beecher Memorial United Church of Christ in New Orleans, will be guest speaker during the morning program. Willie Simmons, deputy director with the Department of Corrections in Jackson will be afternoon guest speaker.

Special entertainment for this year's celebration will be provided by the Brothers and Sisters in Christ Choir from New Orleans and the St. Rose de Lima Choir.

Dr. Joseph Byrd, assistant dean of student services at Xavier University in New Orleans, will be master of ceremonies.

Space center director of operations Jack Rogers will deliver the opening address. Byrd and Association for Cultural Awareness president Dinna LeDuff will open the ceremonies. Rev. Lewis Ragins, pastor of Morning Star Baptist Church in Gulfport, will give the invocation.

The Black History program is one of several programs sponsored by the association, which was established to initiate programs that promote cultural understanding of all ethnic groups at the space center.

The organization sponsors programs in observance of Hispanic, Native American, women's and Asian/Pacific American history, as well as handicapped awareness fairs. The ACA also provides sponsorship in Special Olympics.

Income Taxes... who needs to file, who doesn't

By Janet K. Lukens
Consumer Money
Management Specialist

Even if you owe no taxes and had none withheld from income last year, it may work to your advantage to file an income tax return this year.

If you have a child with income of his own but whom you still claim as a dependent, beware that filing requirements for dependents are different from other individual taxpayers. If a family member died last year, a personal representative must file for this person in order for a tax refund to be paid.

Just as all other aspects of income taxes, knowing when to file has become more complicated in recent years. For most people, the amount of gross income allowed before you are required to file has increased again this year.

Gross income filing requirements are related to your allowable standard deduction and personal exemption. Since both personal exemptions and standard deductions have increased, the amount of gross income that can be earned without being required to file has increased. However, a number of other factors may enter into your decision to file.

For most people, the chart below will apply. Gross income requirements are dependent upon marital status, filing status and age.

If you are a parent with a child you claim as a dependent,

Filing Status	Age	Gross Income
Single	Under 65	$5,550
	65 or over	$6,400
Head of Household	Under 65	$7,150
	65 or over	$8,000
Married filing joint	Under 65	$10,000
	One spouse 65	$10,650
	Two spouses 65	$11,300
Married, filing separate or not living together	Any age	$2,150
Qualifying Widow	Under 65	$7,850
	65 or over	$8,500

but who has income of his or her own, different rules apply. The filing requirements for this situation will depend on both the amount of income and the type of income.

If your unmarried child has unearned income of $1 or more and total income of more than $550, your child must file a tax return. If the only source of income was earned income, the child may earn up to $3,400 before he or she is required to file.

If you care for a single, elderly parent or relative (65 or older) and claim that person as your dependent, that person is allowed earned income only of $4,250 before it is necessary for the dependent to file.

They must file, however, if unearned income was more than $1,400. They must also file if gross income is more than earned income (up to $3,400) or $550, whichever is larger, plus $850. If this elderly individual is also blind, add another $850 to the income requirements.

Even if you are not required to file, it may work to your advantage to file if you qualify for Earned Income Credit.

Earned Income Credit Rules have been greatly expanded this year. If a child lived with you and total earned income is less than $21,250 for 1991, investigate Earned Income Credit. Refunds will be as large as $2,020 for some who qualify. This may apply even if no income tax was withheld from your check.

market at the Waveland Civic Center, vacated the building last April by the City's request.

The center was targeted for extensive repairs, said Mayor Stella Frlot, who indicated this year's budget would not allow for the improvements.

"One year ago we had $20,000 in the treasury," said Rogers, noting the amount had dwindled to a few thousand. "We are not making any money in the new location. We need to be back next to the St. Vincent de Paul Society (thrift shop); we complement each other."

Frlot indicated an Attorney General's opinion is being requested as to the legality of housing a club or civic group in a city-owned building.

"We spend thousands of dollars in Waveland—at Wal-Mart for pet food, on veterinarian fees and salaries," said Rogers. "We just want to come back home."

The board agreed to notify the society upon receiving an opinion, and to work with them to find suitable office space if the law allows.

BHS students start beautification

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
Bay High School students began breaking ground yesterday for the placement of trees, plants and a deck in the center courtyard of the campus.

Principal Roger James said, "It is time. The students deserve to have an area in which they can sit and talk and study that is attractive to the eye."

"The courtyard has been nothing but dirt and some grass. There are few benches upon which the students may sit."

Plans for the area show four rectangular plots, each holding trees that will one day provide shade, and plants that will one day bloom flowers.

A deck will be erected in the center. James said he would like to see the structure eventually have a roof for more diverse weather usage, but that can come in time.

For now the main objective is to provide an attractive environment in which the students can feel a sense of pride.

"The Bay-Waveland School District intends to add to the landscaping at each of the area's four schools," James stated, "Although the high school will be the largest of the projects."

James said many local merchants have assisted in the purchase of materials and the Bay-Waveland Garden Club has provided landscaping plans.

"Without the community's assistance, this would not be possible," he added.

Bay High DECA club member Tonja Meyers commented, "I think it's a good idea. Now we have no place to sit during breaks except for on the ground."

Interact Club member Jennifer Labat remarked, "Beautification of the school is an important project because it will raise school spirit. It will give the students a sense of pride to help build something here they will remember. We will be leaving behind our small contribution."

James stated any parent or neighbor or community member wishing to participate through donations of materials, or willing to devote time to shovel some dirt, should contact coordinator Garland Cuevas at 467-6621.

Businessman sells wood protection

No flames here

Dan Munro demonstrates that wood treated with protection product Beta Z-20 does not ignite and burn even though it does char. (Echo staff photo by Traci Bonney)

BY TRACI BONNEY

What do you call wood that doesn't burn, rot or get eaten by insects?

Petrified, right?

Well, sort of.

Don Munro of D.C. Munro Systems in Biloxi, says he has a product that will render wood almost impervious to destruction.

Beta Z-20 is a silica-based product that can be used by manufacturers when they pressure-treat wood or by homeowners in a spray-on form. Munro said it is non-toxic and environmentally safe.

Wood treated with Beta Z-20 is purported not to ignite, even when a blowtorch is held on it for half an hour (it chars, but doesn't burn); not to waterlog or decay from fungus; and not to be vulnerable to attack by insects.

Results from tests conducted by Underwriters Laboratories, Mississippi State University's Forest Products Laboratory and other labs show that Beta Z-20 holds up to its claims.

Munro said, "Dr. John Wagner, the gentleman who developed this product, has been working on it for 30 years. The first test results came back in 1981."

Wood treated with Beta Z-20 can be painted without problems. In fact, according to reports, the paint lasts longer because the Beta Z-20 acts as a water repellent seal.

So, in short, using Beta Z-20 on wood is like using petrified wood to build with, Munro said.

He stated that the applications for the product are almost limitless. Houses, fences, outdoor furniture, boats, piers, pavilions, wooden playground fixtures — an endless list of items can benefit from being treated with Beta Z-20.

When asked if any negative aspects had come to light so far, Munro said, "The only negative thing is that I've run out of money. I need to somehow get on a plane a go to California where they're building million-dollar houses right next to each other and the houses are burning down in firestorms."

Munro added that several hundred gallons of Beta Z-20 are available at this time, but further production (it's manufactured in Gulfport) is being held until someone orders the chemical.

For more information about Beta Z-20, write to Dr. John Wagner, 14372 Old Hwy. 80, Suite A, El Cajon, CA 92021.

Chamber president Basil Kennedy reported his pleasure with the effects of a recent Rotary presentation on litter, which prompted Waveland Alderman Curtis Colson to initiate a resolution by which the city was instructed to write a letter to each Waveland business requesting assistance with surrounding area litter.

"The reaction of people following these presentation is encouraging," said Kennedy.

"If every person contributes just that much care, a lot can be accomplished."

Proclamations of commitment to a litter free status by '93 have been accepted by the Bay St. Louis City Council, the Waveland Board of Aldermen and the county Board of Supervisors.

Cuevas suggested contact be made with the county's three law enforcement departments, requesting law breakers performing community service time be designated to specific areas, such as highways.

Today marks the 26th parade by the Krewe of Nereids scheduled for 1 p.m. on U.S. 90 in Waveland. The reason for the parade being moved up to 1 p.m. a while back is to give spectators and parade participants an opportunity of finishing before dark. This year's parade is expected to draw some 80 units with 20 being from the Krewe of Nereids. Just in case the parade is canceled because of rain, it will be rescheduled for March 3rd at noon. The parade forms at the Choctaw Plaza Shopping Center and will travel on U.S. 90 East to Katie's Kandy Shop and then west on U.S. 90 to Our Shopping Center. I hope to see you at the parade.

An interesting meeting was held at the Kuhn discussion on soil erosion, a topic of special interest of many Hancock County residents.

The meeting was hosted by the Hancock County Soil and Water Conservation District and Board of Supervisors.

In addition to those representatives, members of the Hancock County Sand Beach Advisory Council were in attendance along with U.S. Corps of Engineers and Mississippi Soil Conservation Service representatives.

My concern is our sand beach and beachfront road; the sand beach doesn't have much left and the beachfront road is deteriorating very fast.

Erosion is the concern of just about every state, but those along the Coastal areas have possibly more problems than others.

The visitors suggested Hancock County should join Harrison and Jackson counties in a resolution seeking Congressional help on solutions for flood control, water quality, beach erosion and drainage.

Hancock officials were told on a short term basis there may be a slight chance of some emergency funds for help.

Hancock County's supervisors have already committed themselves to improve the sand beach. Funding for a permanent project still needs to be found.

I am hoping that it will not be too long before our county will be able to repair our beach road, improve drainage and re-nourish our sand beach.

Redistricting plan alters District 46

The Senate Redistricting Plan was considered this past week. As usual, the plan was extremely controversial; it made significant changes in Mississippi's 52 senate districts to correct for population shifts and minority representation.

The most significant change on the Coast involved Senate District 46 which I represent. Currently, this district covers parts of all three Coast counties, and is the third largest in the state. It has to be reduced by over 10,000 people to comply with the equal population requirements of our constitution.

When all the debate was finished, the result was that senate District 46 will be composed of all of Hancock County, western Harrison County and Pass Christian. It is a good district; its various areas have a lot in common. I look forward to representing it.

The Senate also approved the House Redistricting Plan. That plan gives the coastal area a new house district made up mostly of Hancock County from Diamondhead north. The new district also includes parts of rural Harrison, Stone and Pearl River counties.

Other business this past week included a bill to regulate advance fee credit businesses. We have been having problems with fly-by-night telephone and mail order operations which collect application fees for approving easy credit. After bilking innocent consumers with the fees, these operations disband and run off with the money.

This new consumer protection statute will also apply to television ads with 900 numbers for credit cards or loans. The bill is now with the House of Representatives.

Most of the legislation to be considered this session will have been introduced by next week, and we will move into a period of intense legislative committee work.

I am interested in your views on legislation we consider in committee. You can write me in Jackson at P.O. Box 1018, Jackson, MS 39215. The phone number there is 359-3770.

FROM THE MISSISSIPPI HOUSE

J.P. Compretta

House approves funding for education plan

Another source of future funding for education would be made available under a plan approved by the House of Representatives amid lingering concern over the state's current money woes.

Among several bills passed by the House in the past week was a measure to gradually shift the state's share of oil and gas severance taxes into a special fund for educational purposes.

Under the bill, the money would be channeled into an education trust fund, starting with 10 percent in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1993.

The proposal, which still faces Senate action, cleared the House with no dissenting votes. An almost identical bill was passed by the House last year but died in the Senate.

Other highlights of the past week include House approval of bills to establish an Adoption Confidentiality Law; authorize an additional $10 million in bonds to help farmers through the Emerging Crops program; update the types of drugs listed in the state Controlled Substances Law to conform with changes in federal drug laws; boost the interest rate on seawall revenue bonds from 6 to 11 percent; and restore the position of state bond attorney which had been repealed last year.

A House redistricting plan adopted earlier by the House cleared the Senate with no changes. It now goes to the U.S. Justice Department for review as required by the federal Voting Rights Act.

The state has been tormented by budget problems since the legislative session began. Earlier this month, the Governor ordered budget cuts totaling more than $75 million for the current fiscal year, and the Legislative Budget Committee chopped its revenue estimate by $115 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

At the request of legislators, budget specialists worked up a revamped list of budget proposals for Fiscal Year 1993 based on the lowered revenue projections.

The committee voted to again pursue a policy adopted in 1991 in handling the huge stack of budget requests.

No appropriation bills will be sent to the House calendar until all proposed budgets have been hammered out, and a summary of the entire package will be furnished to all House members. Finally, committee members voted to prepare a supplemental list of "critical needs" that they believe ought to be funded if additional revenues can be found.

Hancock Sheriff Ronald Peterson reported failure to receive a bill from the county tax collector for automobile taxes is no excuse for driving with an expired tag.

Some 15 tickets for expired tags were issued to motorists in the Diamondhead area this week, Peterson reported, in the start of a drive against use of expired tags. Road blocks will be established to check for expired tags, inspection stickers, and illegal use of out-of-state tags.

Development of a $50 million Bay Cove Village on the outskirts of Bay St. Louis, discovered Tuesday that the Bay St. Louis Council could not guarantee water or sewer service to the subdivision. Developers of the subdivision planned to connect to the city's water and sewer at their own expense, but needed an agreement stating Bay St. Louis will supply those services. Bay St. Louis Attorney William Frisbie, speaking on behalf of Don Hessemer and Charles Lambert, noted an agreement from the city to supply water and sewer is 'very important' to his clients.

A $25 raise for registered nurses and 10¢ an hour adjustment to cover uniform costs for certain employees were authorized by trustees of Hancock General Hospital at their February meeting last Wednesday night. Both Bay High cage teams, boys and girls, moved up the ladder to the state championship last week, the Tigers winning the District 8 Class AA Tournament in the Tiger Dome and the Tigerettes placing second in the girls' division. So this week the battle is on for the South Mississippi championship.

It may have been Hancock North Central's usual strong finish, or it may have been the spark supplied by Ronnie Saucier who rejoined the Hawks a couple weeks ago after being ineligible most of the season. Whatever it was, one thing is for certain, the Hawks stashed away another District 8 Class A championship last week and are now competing in the South Mississippi championship.

In a large announcement made last week, one of our largest merchants, the Joseph diBenedetto Grocery, announced that as a war time measure and because of the shortage of help in their forces they would discontinue their delivery service after March 1st and asked the public's indulgence and cooperation in this measure which they were compelled to take.

Approximately 500 persons crowded the Hancock County courtroom on Tuesday evening in response to the call for a mass meeting on Civilian Defense called by Mrs. C.C. McDonald, director of the Volunteer Service. In the absence of Mr. Charles B. Murphy, chairman of the Hancock County Civil Defense Council, Brother Alexis opened the meeting. Mrs. McDonald stated there was a great difference in the method of warfare today. Formerly armies met in battle and the army which could not hold its position, surrendered and the war was over. Today, Mrs. McDonald stated, it is different with battlefronts spread over so many lands, the civilian population suffers generally more than the armed forces, and this is the reason why training and preparation of the civilian population is vitally important.

Since the building of the Gulf and Ship Island Railroad from Gulfport to Hattiesburg, the country through which it runs is becoming one of the most prominent sections in the South. Sawmills, in some places located on every mile of the road, run day and night to supply the foreign demand for the long-leaf pine lumber of that section. There is a scope of country that is almost inexhaustible for its supply of lumber as it extends from the east far to the west and from the Gulf to Tennessee line.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

A Weekly Editorial
from Mississippi Economic Council

Keep the unit system

While it hasn't always made the front page, the county unit system of government in Mississippi has consistently been one of the most contested issues of this century.

In November 1988, Mississippians made it known that they agreed with the studies and the research on the unit system. In the November referendum, 62 percent of the voters—representing 48 counties—chose to abandon the outdated beat system. Along with that decision came a six-year commitment to county government, a relatively short period of time in which to reverse a century of the beat system.

It has been three years since the unit system was put into effect in those 48 counties, and already there are calls for another referendum on county unit. We can't afford to renege on that commitment made just three short years ago, and Mississippi can't afford to take a step back to the beat system.

The people made a choice in 1988, and in doing so they announced their desire for a more efficient and more accountable system of county government. For that system, or any system, to perform properly, it must have leaders who are dedicated to its basic tenets.

A call for a change in the system after only three years doesn't necessarily mean that the system is wrong, however, it does indicate that there are those who are less than committed to ensuring that it has a fair

Supervisors

Jourdan River Shores Property Owners Association president Ray Cowie told the supervisors that about half the subdivision's residents are weekenders, many from New Orleans. He said it is difficult for them to find the time during the weekend to dispose of trash.

Supervisor Robert Peterson reminded the residents that the convenience center is open every day from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Chamber of Commerce beautification committee member Carol Vegas was also at the meeting. She spoke to both the supervisors and the residents, and told them throwing money at the county's litter problems isn't the answer.

Saying that education and personal responsibility are the proper starting points, she commended the Jourdan River Shores residents for their concern about the trash problems in their neighborhood and the supervisors for their commitment to speak in the schools during Litter Awareness Week in April.

She also applauded the Jourdan River Shores residents for their plan to clean up the area on Hwy. 603 that borders on their subdivision in early March.

In addition, Vegas asked that the county put up anti-litter signs that the beautification committee is having made to have installed in public places throughout the county. The supervisors agreed to install one of the signs in the parking lot at the Human Services Complex.

DOCKSIDE GAMBLING

George Baxter of Bayou Cad-dy Casino updated the supervisors on plans for the floating gaming facility at Bayou Cadet.

He told the board that a problem with possible wetlands is currently preventing use of some of the property earmarked for parking. Another area planned for parking will provide adequate facilities for patrons and buses, but Baxter said more space is needed so that the company can satisfy regulations on employee parking.

He proposed that Bayou Cad-dy Casino pave part of the right-of-way on Beach Blvd. immediately adjacent to Bayou Caddy's property, stripe the area for diagonal parking and maintain the surfacing work, but make the parking spaces for public access. He said this should satisfy the regulations.

The supervisors agreed to send a letter to the State Gaming Commission in support of Baxter's plan.

OTHER BUSINESS

The board re-appointed Lang as one of the county's representatives on the South Mississippi Planning and Development District's board, and appointed Supervisor Mike Ladner as the other representative.

The board heard reports and requests from attorney Gerald Gex, Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise, county jailer Jim Odom, Tax Assessor/Collector Edward Murtagh, Civil Defense director Bobby Boudin, Bay St. Louis Little League representative Earl Fayard, inventory control clerk Harold Heine, Port and Harbor Commission Executive Director Harold "Buz" Olsen and road department official Tommy Moran.

Moran recommended low bids to the supervisors for electrical service, building materials and cement. The supervisors accepted the low bids by company.

The board adjourned to March 2, 9 a.m.

chasing and road and bridge departments.

"In the short term the unit system has cost the county more money. In the long term — that remains to be seen."

Necaise said change to the unit system has not affected the road and bridge budget's makeup or the supervisors' salaries. He explained that the salaries are based on the assessed valuation of property in the county, not on the number of duties the supervisors must perform.

None of the five currently on the board of supervisors specifically said they would like to see the former system replace the unit system. However, some of the men expressed concern about some of the new system's features.

Alton "Dolph" Kellar has served under both systems. He was a supervisor in 1987 when a local and private bill allowed Hancock County to start operating under the unit system a year earlier than other counties in the state.

Kellar said he doesn't prefer one over the other. However, he did say: "The county has had a fair shake at the unit system; come October, it'll be five years."

"Not one road has been blacktopped since the unit system came in; yet at the same time taxes have tripled."

"I'm not running again. I don't care whether it stays or not, but I will tell the people what's happened."

"I hope it does come to a vote. I hope they give the people the chance to decide whether or not to vote the beat system back in."

Howard Lizana, a first-term supervisor, asked to be allowed time to research the differences in the two systems. When he commented, he said, "From an administrative viewpoint, I like the unit system. I think the centralized purchasing is a good thing."

"For road and bridge matters, the beat system seems to be better and more economical."

"Personally, I want to be more involved in the road and bridge part. I don't know if you can separate them (administration and roads)."

Second-term supervisor Robert Peterson stated, "I like a lot of parts of the unit system — central purchasing, pooling equipment — but I think the supervisors should have more authority about what happens on the roads in their districts."

Wilmer Seymour, also in his second term, said, "I'm satisfied with the unit system. I'm sure the beat system has its good points and bad points, but I like how the unit system works."

President Mike Ladner, the third second-term on the board, commented, "The beat system worked pretty good, I guess, when the county was smaller, but the county has grown to about twice the size since the unit system came in."

"Personally, I think the unit system will work better if it's given a try."

stated. "Already, some of our local men have had to look for work out-of-state, and at their own expense."

"Anthony Summers of Waveland was working in Bay St. Louis and someone came in from another district with more seniority than he had, and he lost his job to him. Summers is now working in Marianne, Fla., miles from his family and friends."

Local 916 is made up of railroad workers throughout the entire Mississippi Gulf Coast, Marquar added. "The men are angry. They feel our present representation did not listen to our problems, as promised."

"When the vote was taken as to whether we should publicly support a candidate, everyone voted to support Hewes."

Marquar said the union met February 8. Thirty-five members were present during that meeting. Local 916 has an overall membership of 108.

Taylor's Washington, D.C. office voiced the congressman's response to the railroad worker's expressions of displeasure, saying, "The overwhelming majority of South Mississippians do not believe that a union should have the right to call a strike for any reason, at any time."

"Congress did not make it more difficult for unions to strike, nor did they make it easier for unions to strike by the passage of HR-5."

Spokesman Shawn Bullard,

stated that HR-5 would have made it easier for unions to strike by doing away with specific guidelines which the unions must presently follow.

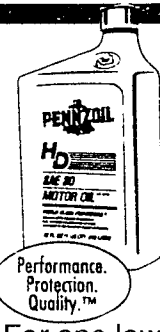

Bullard added, "The unions still have their right to strike, just as anyone has the right to strike."

In response to elimination of district seniority, Bullard stated, "Yes, Congressman Taylor voted for the PEM decision, reason being our railroads are indispensable to this country."

"I would venture to say the entire Mississippi delegation voted for acceptance of the PEB decision. Only a handful (400 for acceptance - 5 against acceptance) did not vote with the President."

"Of course Congressman Taylor is concerned with the effects of the elimination of district seniority for the rail worker. But neither side got everything they wanted."

"He feels this country would have come to a standstill without the compromise."

'Shakescenes' presents As You Like It Thursday

On February 27, the Hancock County School District will present an in-school performance of 'As You Like It,' the New Stage Theatre's Arts-in-Education statewide tour. As You Like It will be presented at Hancock High School for grades 7-12 level students.

Last year, New Stage's Arts-in-Education tour played to more than 20,000 students in 40 schools throughout Mississippi. As You Like It is a 60-minute theatrical production. Young professional actors perform scenes from one of William Cullen Douglas, Sheila Richardson and Andre Golden. Sarah Stevenson is stage manager for the show.

New Stage Theatre is a professional not-for-profit theatre affiliated with Actors' Equity Association. Programs of New Stage are made possible, in part, by a grant from the Mississippi Arts Commission, a state Shakespeare's best-loved plays in a show packed with energy, comedy and eloquence.

In the play actors portray multiple roles and play out a story about love and mistaken identities. The performance will be followed by an open discussion between the acting company and the students. The discussion will explore Shakespeare's language and themes, the characters and the relevance of Shakespeare's work.

Compiled and directed by Francine Thomas, education director at New Stage, As You Like It will be performed by New Stage's Professional Intern Company members Dana McCain, Randy Goodwin, agency; the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency; the ArtsAlliance of Jackson and Hinds County; and individual and corporate contributors. The Arts-in-Education program is sponsored, in part, by the Phil Hardin Foundation, Nick Clark Printing and Hancock County Schools.

For further information, call the superintendent's office at 467-4466.

Grants available to artists, organizations

The Mississippi Arts Commission announces the availability of grants for artists and arts organizations. Grants categories include artist fellowships, arts in education, project support and general operating support. The postmark deadline for applications is March 1.

The artist fellowship program is designed to encourage and support the creation of new art and to recognize the contributions that artists of exceptional talent make to the vitality of our culture.

These grants are intended to allow artists to devote full attention to their art form and to achieve specific artistic goals.

Eligible disciplines for 1992-93 are crafts, play and screen writing, and new art forms, including performance art and interdisciplinary art forms.

The overall goal of Arts in Education grants is to advance basic arts education for all students. Special project grants support a wide variety of projects that advance basic arts education.

The demonstration program offers grants to schools and arts organizations to promote arts education. Through this program, artists provide in-service training for teachers, administrators, boards of education, parents and community leaders.

Project support grants fund a wide variety of arts projects presented by non-profit organizations, schools, universities and government agencies. Sample activities include concerts, performances, readings, exhibitions, art festivals and community artist-in-residences.

General operating support provides funds for ongoing activities of arts and cultural organizations. These grants are meant to assist organizations in achieving overall goals and objectives rather than to support specific projects. Operating support is also available for local arts agencies to provide funds for ongoing activities.

To receive an application for these grants contact Cindy Jetter, Program Administrator, Mississippi Arts Commission, 239 North Lamar Street, Jackson, 359-6030.

Cordova, Dobbs state winners in Ms. PP of A photo contest

Luis F. Cordova of Diamondhead Studio and model Tara Denise Dobbs of Diamondhead were the finalists for the state of Mississippi in the 1992 Ms. PP of A Photogenic Contest.

The nationwide contest awards cash, prizes and an opportunity for national exposure to contestants whose photographs naturally and attractively capture their personalities and appearances. Each state finalist in the competition receives an engraved bud vase.

The contest, sponsored by Professional Photographers of America Inc. and Eastman Kodak Company, was open to women 18 or older who entered jointly with a participating photographer. Entries were judged on the contestant's appearance, expression and point, as well as the lighting and quality of the photos.

A panel of jurors judged the entries at PP of A headquarters in January. First, second and third place winners were chosen, as well as finalists from each state, province and country.

Models and photographers from all 50 states, Australia, Canada and Taiwan competed this year. The first, second and third place winners were from Missouri, Georgia and Texas. PP of A, founded in 1880, is the world's oldest and largest association for professional photographers. The association provides educational programs and establishes standards of professional performance for its 17,000 individual members and 214 affiliated organizations worldwide.

Next year's Photogenic Contest will be expanded to include male models, according to a letter sent to Cordova by PP of A contest coordinator Carmen Schettino.

Taylor elected Tidewater v.p.

Dean E. Taylor

Taylor was initially hired in 1978 as a manager trainee. He assumed the management of Tidewater's marine operations in Italy and the Mediterranean Sea in 1979, and Brazil in 1981.

After four years in Brazil, Taylor was reassigned to direct the company's marine groups in the Persian Gulf and India.

In 1986, Taylor moved to Tidewater's corporate headquarters in New Orleans where he heads the company's marine operations in Mexico and Venezuela.

Prior to joining Tidewater, Taylor was an officer in the U.S. Navy. His naval experience included a stint as a weapons and gunnery officer aboard a Navy destroyer, as a navigator, as an operations officer and as an acting executive officer aboard a Hamilton class Coast Guard cutter in a USN/USCG officer exchange program. His final tour was as a staff officer and operations officer for the commander of U.S. Sixth Fleet.

A native of Bay St. Louis, Taylor was graduated from Tulane University and later earned an MS in business administration from Boston University. Taylor and his wife, Marilene, reside in Bay St. Louis with their five children.

Tidewater owns and operates one of the largest fleets of vessels serving the international offshore energy industry and owns and operates one of the largest fleets of natural gas compressors in the United States.

The company also has modest interests in domestic oil and gas operations, real estate and insurance.

Coggin completes FAA training

Laura Kimberly Coggin recently completed the Federal Aviation Administration's nine-week air traffic controller basic course at the FAA Academy. Coggin is the daughter of James and Frances Coggin of Pass Christian.

Before coming to the Mike Monroney Aeronautical Center in Oklahoma City, Coggin passed stringent written and physical examinations under civil service. Normally, only 60 percent of students complete the intense course, which teaches air traffic procedures and handling of large and small aircraft in the nation's airspace system.

Bay Council earns thanks

BY TRACI BONNEY

In the course of covering local news, it is sometimes easy to overlook the "feel-good" stories and the "warm fuzzies."

The Bay St. Louis City Council received just such a "warm fuzzy" earlier this month. Shay Coss, a student at St. Clare School, thanked the council and mayor on behalf of the fifth grade class for the officials' support of the school.

A St. Clare spokesperson said the letter was part of the school's Catholic Schools Week activities.

"We all wrote letters to our benefactors, the people who are always there for us," she said. "Each class was assigned a person or group to thank."

The following is the complete text of the letter sent to Mayor Eddie Favre and the council:

Dear Honorable Mayor Favre and City Council members, We would like to say Thank-you for all the special things you do to support our Catholic school. It is because of you we continue to grow each day in God's knowledge and our school remains strong in the community.

We will be keeping you in our prayers this week. Thank you again for your support.

Yours truly,
Shay Coss

Coast Magazine, Business Journal adds issues

Coast Magazine is changing from a bimonthly to quarterly publication and Coast Business Journal is changing from monthly to biweekly beginning March, according to Neil W. White III, Coast Magazine Corp. chief executive officer.

"Coast Business Journal will now arrive 26 times a year instead of 12. We will bring the latest business news to the Coast community every other Monday."

"With this modification of frequency, Coast Business Journal leaves 'magazine' status and enters the realm of newspaper publishing," White said.

"Coast Magazine will be better than ever. Each issue will have more pages, more stories and more photographs. Cover dates for the magazine will be spring, summer, fall and winter."

In addition to Coast Magazine and Coast Business Journal, Gulfport-based Coast Magazine Corp. publishes Louisiana Life Magazine, Profiles in Progress and operates CM Advertising.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Chicken Fricassee, with its rich velvety brown sauce, is one of my favorite ways to cook chicken.

The "old-time" chicken fricassee of our country's earlier days was the ingenious cook's answer to making best and most tasty use of an old hen (or should I say "mature" hen?) long past her egg-producing days.

Hence, the dowager hen was slowly, slowly simmered, or "smothered down" to tenderness in a rich sauce or gravy. Nowadays, of course, many cooks make their chicken fricassees with more tender frying chickens, cutting down the cooking time as well.

But, for a real old-fashioned fricassee, I still prefer to use a hen for fullest flavor, cooking it slowly until the meat almost falls from the bones. This dish is also known as "Smothered Chicken," for a cardinal rule of a fricassee is to cook it slowly ("smother") in a tightly-covered pan, after browning the chicken pieces.

French cooks prefer a "white fricassee" in a cream gravy, as do many Southern cooks, especially in Georgia. Early cooks in the Carolinas made richer-than-rich white fricassees replete with egg yolks and cream, which gave the dish a golden instead of a white tone. But I prefer the rich, dark brown, often red wine-accented fricassees of our Coastal and Creole cookery.

Whether to choose dark sauce or gravy, or milk or cream gravy for the fricassee is almost as debated a question as is the proper way to cook Southern fried chicken—and friendships, as you know, have been weakened or lost over this question!

I had always taken it for granted that chicken fricassee was an "old-time" Southern dish. In fact, for a long time in my younger days I believed that our family cook had dreamed it up in an effort to make more tender and tasty an old hen or so!

But, quite by accident, I learned that what I had considered the South's Own Fricassee was in truth one of the oldest recorded recipes in existence! "Fricassee" is mentioned in almost every cookbook from the 16th and 17th centuries! Books of that time contained a number of terms not much in use today; and a "qualquech-ose"—"something"—was a

"fricassee."

And, as is the case with so many words of French origin, something was lost in the translation, and the word turned into something quite different. The fricassee became the "kicks-haw"—a sort of fancy tidbit!

So much for languages and such. Here's:

CHICKEN FRICASSEE

1 hen cut in serving pieces (or 1 large chicken)
Flour for dredging chicken
2 medium onions, chopped
1 cup chopped celery
1 bell (green) pepper, chopped
Oil for browning chicken (1/2 cup or less)
4 cups chicken stock or water
Pepper, salt, Cayenne to your taste

Dashes of hot pepper sauce to your taste
1/2 tsp. thyme
Bay leaf
2 Tblsp. minced parsley
To "fricassee" means that you merely brown the bird in a little fat or oil, then cook it ever so slowly in a heavy pot, covered, in its own juices or other liquid of your choice.

Dredge the chicken pieces in flour and brown in the oil. Remove chicken, and add the onions, bell pepper and celery and saute slowly for 5 minutes. Add the water or stock along with the seasonings (except the chopped parsley).

Return the chicken to the pot and simmer, covered, until the chicken is tender and sauce has thickened to your taste. (I add a half cup or more of Burgundy wine during cooking.) Reduce sauce as desired. Just before chicken is done, add the chopped parsley. (4 to 6 servings). Delicious served over rice!

Cashew-crusted catfish is different twist for Lent

With fish consumption traditionally at its highest during the Lenten season, good recipe ideas are in demand more than ever.

In an effort to satisfy discriminating palates, The Catfish Institute suggests a new recipe with plenty of texture and flavor.

"Cashew-Crusted Catfish with Tomato Basil Cream" combines a crunchy crust and creamy tomato sauce with the mild flavor of Mississippi farm-raised catfish filets. The result is a deliciously different dish.

The creation of New York chef Peter Gamble, and first place winner in the Hilton Hotel Chef Competition co-sponsored by The Catfish Institute, the recipe offers great taste as well as good nutrition.

An excellent source of protein, farm-raised catfish has only 128 calories per 3.5 ounce serving and is low in fat, cholesterol and sodium.

Its firm texture and year-round availability make it a welcome change to many recipes calling for chicken, beef or pork.

This recipe is one of 20 catfish dishes found in The Catfish Cookbook, a 16-page, full-color recipe booklet. For a copy, send $2 (check or money order) to: The Catfish Cookbook, The Catfish Institute, P.O. Box 247, Belzoni, MS 39038.

CASHEW CRUSTED CATFISH WITH TOMATO

BASIL CREAM
2 Mississippi farm-raised catfish filets (5-7 oz.)

Egg wash:

2 eggs, beaten

1/2 cup milk

Cashew mixture:

2 cups crushed cashews

1 teaspoon cayenne pepper

2 teaspoons garlic powder

1/2 teaspoon basil, dried

1/2 teaspoon black pepper

Dip catfish filets into egg wash, and dredge in cashew mixture. Saute filets in oil on medium heat for 5-6 minutes each side or until golden brown. Serve on bed of Tomato Basil Sauce. Serves 2.

TOMATO BASIL SAUCE

3 tablespoons olive oil
2 cups crushed tomatoes
4 cloves garlic, minced
1/2 cup minced onion
1/4 cup minced basil leaves
1/4 cup chicken stock
1/4 cup heavy cream

Saute garlic and onion in olive oil until transparent. Add crushed tomatoes and chicken stock. Simmer for 20 minutes. Add heavy cream, bring to boil, simmer for 5 minutes and add fresh basil.

Library adds books on healthy eating

The Mississippi Dietetic Association and the Gulf Coast Dietetic Association have contributed to each of the five libraries along the Coast for the purchase of nutrition books.

The Hancock County Library System has added nine books to its health and nutrition collection.

They are Coping with Diet Fads, Child of Mine: Feeding with Love and Common Sense, A Healthy Head Start, A Worry-free Guide to Feeding Young Children, The Mount Sinai School of Medicine Complete Book of Nutrition;

The New American Diet System, The Tufts University Guide to Total Nutrition, Bestfeeding: Getting Breastfeeding Right For You, The Nutrition Challenge for Women: Now You Don't Have to Diet to Stay Healthy and Fit, and Mediterranean Light: Delicious Recipes from the World's Healthiest Cuisine.

An annotated book list hand-out, Nutrition 90's Style: A Book List, is also available at all three branches of the Hancock County Library System—City-County in Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Kiln—for additional selections on health and nutrition.

Further information may be obtained by calling the City-County Library at 467-5282, the Waveland Library at 467-9240, or the Kiln Library at 255-1724.

1892:

Harry Longabaugh ("Sundance Kid") committed his first train robbery in Malta, Montana, with cohorts from the Robber's Roost hideaway in the Hole-in-the-Wall country. During these early years, he met Robert LeRoy Parker ("Butch Cassidy") and they formed the notorious Wild Bunch of bank and train robbers. The gang members were fond of vacation trips to places like Denver, Fort Worth and new Orleans.

Rumors of the time had it that they may have passed through Bay St. Louis.

In Bay St. Louis, the Caldwell dog case was finally settled when Justice of the Peace, J.E. Saucier, imposed a $2.50 fine and costs of court upon Mr. Caldwell.

According to witnesses, Mrs. Caldwell's dog was run over and killed by a vegetable wagon driven by Mr. William Thorn. Mrs. Caldwell's son, Robert, desiring an explanation or apology, stopped the wagon and a little struggle followed. No serious damage was occasioned and the affair was soon over, Thorn leaving the scene with Caldwell holding a piece of his coat tail.

Of false prophets

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

According to Henry Clifford Kinley, Jesus came to bring an end to the belief that baptism with water and the ritual of communion are the answers to salvation. He assures us that we can gain salvation only through knowledge of Yahweh's eternal purpose and plan.

There is no doubt that we have a fundamental need to know and understand the scheme of God's purpose and plan. However, what we do with this knowledge is far more important than the knowledge itself, however clear and inspiring.

Jesus himself commands us: "Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you" (Mt. 28: 19).

Plainly, Jesus decrees that all of us both know him, his Father and his Spirit, and dedicate ourselves to the Most Holy Trinity, pledging ourselves to living the Good News.

The very selective use of the Bible on the part of Kinley indicates that he is just another eclectic reader of the Scriptures who goes about touting its infallibility, yet quotes and twists it to his advantage.

Unable to spread his distorted message in his native Church of God ministry, Henry Kinley founded the Institute of Divine Metaphysical Research Inc., a non-profit, non-denominational religious and scientific organization dedicated to explaining proof of Yahweh's existence.

He says that Yahshua, not Jesus, is the correct name of the Messiah who is the manifestation of Yahweh in bodily form. We concede without argument that Yahshua is the correct name in Aramaic, but Jesus is the anglicized version of the same name, and, therefore, just as correct for all who understand better the adjusted spelling in their own tongue.

Speaking of the "vision" given Kinley by Yahweh, Herbert Jones, president of the New Orleans branch of the institute, says that it can be proven by the Bible, by creation and by the anatomy of the human body which is made in Yahweh's likeness and image.

That is all well and good, except that the human body is hardly that part of us which is made in the image and likeness of Yahweh. Credit rather our mind and our spirit.

Further, these folks are doing what all fanatics do: trying to foist their beliefs on others under pain of theological heterodoxy and eternal damnation.

History shows with great clarity and disgusting repetitiveness that every religious denomination, major or minor, has preached the same hellfire exclusiveness at one time or another. The record also shows that it has always backfired.

"Outside the Church there is no salvation" has come such a long way that, for the majority of Christians, it has come full circle to its biblical origins where Jesus spoke of one fold, yet claimed all sheep everywhere (Jn. 10: 16; 11: 52).

Whether it is women and men who are bashing mainline Christians while touting their own born-again-eliteness and exclusivity, or whether it is far-out doctrinal fanatics, most of us have had it up to the gills with phoney religion.

What is more certain than certain is that Jesus Christ bears no resemblance but to those who embrace all as he did.

Women's Aglow to meet Tuesday

The Women's Aglow Fellowship of Hancock County will meet Tuesday, Feb. 25, at the Waveland Resort Inn on Hwy. 90.

A Dutch Treat Dinner will start at 6 p.m. Reservations are required for the dinner by noon Monday.

The meeting will start at 7. Guest speaker is Delia Hale, a Louisiana native. She and her husband are graduates of and ordained through Christ for the Nations in Texas. They are members of Live Church of Mobile, Ala., and missionaries who have worked in Mexico and Western Europe.

Women's Aglow is an international organization of renewed Christian women who are committed to Jesus. During the monthly meetings of the interdenominational fellowship, the members worship God and share His word.

The fellowship is asking those who attend to bring canned foods for the county Food Pantry.

For dinner reservations or more information, call Julie Howell at 467-0030, Edith Palmer at 467-7507 or Karen Smith at 467-9390.

Black History program slated

A special Black History program will be held on Friday, Feb. 28, 7 p.m. at the Little Zion Baptist Church, Waveland.

Clarence Harris, coordinator, said the special program is sponsored by the Little Zion Baptist Church and the Waveland Improvement Project.

The program will include a guest speaker, participation by youths, with a fellowship and refreshments to follow.

Pastor Alex Wesco invites and urges the public to attend.

Alcohol, drug program slated at Waveland church

Mike Hyde, outreach representative of the Spirit of Freedom Ministries in New Orleans, La., will present a special program on family alcoholism and drugs at the First United Pentecostal Church of Waveland.

Hyde states, of the two-thirds of Americans who drink, one in 10 becomes an alcoholic, and that 40 percent of all teenagers are heavy drinkers.

The Spirit of Freedom will be introducing a new approach to family alcoholism and drugs. A tape, "Raised From The Ruins" on alcoholism, along with other materials, will be made available during the meeting.

Hyde will also be giving true accounts of men and women who have been delivered from alcoholism and drugs.

This special program should be of interest to those who would like to help anyone with alcohol or drug problems.

The program is Monday, March 2 at 7 p.m. at the First United Pentecostal Church in Waveland, Arnold Street, corner Old Spanish Trail.

The public is invited and there is no obligation or admission charge.

Telephone Pioneers to return to park

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Recalling a successful international camping rally in 1990 at Buccaneer State Park, the Mississippi "Magnolia Bells" Telephone Pioneers family campers will sponsor a five-state camporee in Hancock County June 13-21.

Jay Lagasse, Hancock Pioneers chairman, said, "The impression with our hospitality in 1990 has enabled us to play host to this group of over 100 mobile units."

"Buccaneer State Park is a great asset to our area. Estimates are that some $400,000 was added to our economy through the international Pioneers group, which had some 500 units," he added.

The group this June should generate more than $100,000, he projected, as more outside activities are planned.

The Magnolia Bells selected Buccaneer because of the accommodations and the encouragement from the board of supervisors and Bay St. Louis and Waveland officials.

A contract was signed by the Magnolia Bells and Greg Smith, Buccaneer State Park manager.

Assisting with the camporee will be city and county officials, chamber of commerce members, Retired Senior Volunteer Program participants (RSVP),

Sign contract

Jay Lagasse, left, and Jeff Harrison, Mississippi's "Magnolia Bells" Telephone Pioneers Family Campers wagonmaster, shake hands after signing a contract for a five-state camporee which will be held at Buccaneer State Park. Lagasse is chairman of the Hancock Pioneers. Some 100 camping units are expected in mid-June.

the Hancock County Welcome Center and local businesses and organizations.

Plans are underway for special activities for the Pioneers' stay in the area, with ample time reserved for them to patronize local restaurants and businesses.

Lagasse said the motto of the Telephone Pioneers family campers is, "To leave an area cleaner than when they arrived."

Mauffray, Strong reign over SCOWI

The Krewe of SCOWI presented their twelfth annual Mardi Gras ball, "Mardi Gras Fantasy," Saturday, February 22 at 8 p.m.

Reigning monarchy was King Conrad Mauffray and his Queen, June Strong.

Maids of the royal court were Ruby Thomas, Dorothy Bessey, Evelyn Burns, Helen Mancuso, Velma Schmitt and Mayola Rotherham. Serving as Dukes were John Eidson, Richard Bessey, Jesse Burns, Jerry Cole, Buddy Williams and William Rotherham.

Mary Caillier is Captain of the krewe. SCOWI officers are Kenneth Wilkinson, Toxie Hall, Forrest Singer, June Strong, Irma Martin and Helen Coleman.

This year's ball was dedicated to the memory of Dr. Bruno Mancuso.

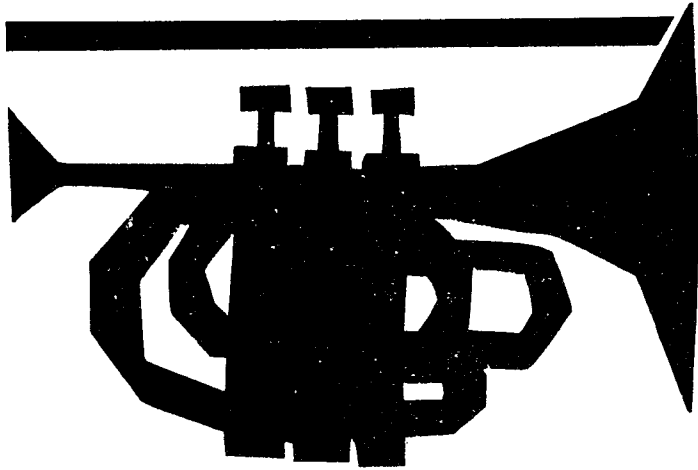

King Donald Mauffray and Queen June Strong

Queen of Endymion

Kim Ello of Metairie, La. reigned as Queen of Endymion at their annual Mardi Gras ball masque in New Orleans. She is pictured with her grandfather, Joseph G. Seibert of Waveland, left, and uncle, Mike Seibert of Waveland. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ello, and is a senior at Archbishop Chapelle High School, where she is on the Chapelette dance team.

MARDI GRAS

Boat parade sets sail at Diamondhead Feb. 29

The Diamondhead Boaters Association's Krewe of Kamehameha will present "Mardi Gras on the Bayou," their annual boat parade Saturday, Feb. 29.

Decorated boats will begin arriving at the Diamondhead Marina and Yacht Club at 3 p.m. Persons wishing to view the parade should arrive by 2:15 p.m.

Reigning over the Krewe of Kamehameha will be King

Akua Kai XVIII Bud Barnes and Queen M'Lis Marshall.

A special aerial salute will be presented as an "Americana" themed tribute.

Refreshments will be available. If weather is questionable, call 255-7055, 8 a.m. until noon.

Krewe of Bay Catholic names Giardino, LaFrance

King Luca Giardino

Bay Catholic Elementary kindergartners Luca Gerard Giardino and Lianne Michelle LaFrance will serve as King and Queen of the Krewe of BCE, according to Ann Allen, principal.

King Luca is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marco Giardino of Bay St. Louis. Queen Lianne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy LaFrance, also of Bay St. Louis.

The Krewe of Bay Catholic began 15 years ago as a small parade in the schoolyard for the kindergarten class. Over past years, it has expanded to the streets of downtown Bay St. Louis.

Parade marshals were selected from the community, representing Bay Catholic, Our Lady Academy, St. Stanislaus, Our Lady of the Gulf and St. Augustine Seminary.

Special guests will include McGruff—the Crime Prevention Dog, Smokey the Bear, Sammy Soil, Raggedy Ann and Andy and a number of clowns.

Bands will include the BCE band, under the direction of Mary Howard, and the St. Stanislaus Junior High Band, directed by Catchie Choina.

Mayor Eddie Favre will toast the royal couple in front of City Hall.

He will also honor the following students who have attended Bay Catholic from grades kindergarten through six:

Ashley Artigues, Emily Alford, Remy Bezou, Derek Bradley, Michele Carbon, Jeffrey Cicerchi, Marie Cuevas, Page Harder, Margie Harris, Josh Hill, Melissa Matherne and Beverly Sy.

Other special guests to be recognized by Favre will be students attending Our Lady Academy and St. Stanislaus who attended Bay Catholic for seven years.

Sponsors for this year's parade are LaFrance Brothers Garage, Corner Market, Bay-Waveland Mini-Storage and D&K Quick Stop.

Queen Lianne LaFrance

Krewe of Nereids parades today

The Krewe of Nereids presents their annual tribute to Mardi Gras today beginning at 1 p.m.

Approximately 80 units make up the parade, with the theme "Viva Las Vegas."

The parade will form in the Choctaw Plaza (Delchamps) parking lot, and travel east on Highway 90 to Katy's Kandy Shoppe, where it will turn on the highway and disband in the Our Shopping Center parking lot.

Should rain force a postponement, a Nereids spokesman said, the krewe will parade Mardi Gras Day, March 3, at noon. The same route will be followed.

WEDDINGS, ENGAGEMENTS

Hall-Ginn

The marriage of Nancy Katherine (Kathy) Ginn and Clarence Albert (C.J.) Hall Jr. was solemnized January 25, 1992, at Trinity Episcopal Church, Pass Christian. Rev. Charles R. Johnson officiated the afternoon ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Nancy R. Ginn of Bay St. Louis and the late John H. Ginn. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Maes of Bay St. Louis.

Music was provided by pianist Diane Allen and soloist John Mason.

Given in marriage by her brother, Donald L. Ginn, the bride wore a formal gown of white taffeta and lace trimmed with pearls and sequins. The chapel train, edged with lace, was set off by a large bow at the waist.

The short veil was attached to a headband covered with pearls. The bouquet was a large cascade of white flowers and greenery, accented with pink roses.

Cindy Quick was matron of honor. Rose Marie Gin was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Joannie Cuevullo, Jeni Suberville, Heather Lord, Amy Moore and Jessica Ginn.

Courtenay Ginn was flower girl. Jamie Ginn was ring bearer.

Mark Hardy was best man. Ushers were Bill Ginn and Jeff Hardy.

Groomsmen were Jay Ginn, Brad Hall, Bill Ginn II, Randy Haas and Troy Bromwell.

A reception followed at the Hancock County Community Center.

The rehearsal dinner prior to the wedding was held at the bride's home and hosted by the groom's family.

The couple resides in Bay St. Louis.

Morris-Stewart

Mr. and Mrs. C. Larry Stewart of Waveland announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Sarah Leah Stewart, to Robert Frederick Morris Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Wooten Jr. of Crestview, Fla.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Bay Senior High School and Jefferson Davis Community College. She holds an associate degree in accounting technology and is an accounts payable clerk with Showell Farms in DeFuniak Springs, Fla.

The prospective groom is a graduate of Crestview High School and Georgia Military College. He also attended Troy State University. He holds an associate degree in engineering from Georgia Military College and is a Civil Service employee at Eglin Air Force Base in Florida.

The couple will exchange vows in an afternoon ceremony at The Sound Restaurant in Ft. Walton Beach, Fla., April 11, 1992.

Robert Morris Jr. and Sarah Stewart

Delaney-Downie

The marriage of Vicki Downie and Eddie R. Delaney was solemnized recently at the Diamondhead Community Center. Joseph C. Wright officiated the afternoon ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Morton S. and Teresa Downie of Diamondhead. The groom is the son of Gene and Helen Whitehead of Long Beach.

The bride was given in marriage by Morton S. Downie.

Teresa Downie was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Diane and Sherri Delaney. Jeff Brister was best man. Eddie Delaney Jr. was the usher.

The couple resides in Bay St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie R. Delaney

Fitzgerald-Pruett

Shawn LaRee Pruett married Michael Dakin Fitzgerald on January 11, 1992, at Calvary Baptist Church, Lilburn, Ga.

Dr. Michael Davis performed the ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Pruett of Mobile, Ala., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. (Sharon F.) James McDonald of Waveland.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. A reception followed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Dodson in Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald reside in Norcross, Ga. The bride is a graduate of Davidson High School, Mobile, Ala. She is presently pursuing a degree in physical therapy at Georgia State University, and is employed by Fitness International Inc. in Stone Mountain, Ga.

Gulf Coast Writers Association

The Gulf Coast Writers Association presents poet Dr. Glenn R. Swetman as guest speaker Feb. 27 at William Carey College auditorium, 1856 Beach Boulevard, Gulfport.

The meeting begins at 7 p.m., and the public is invited to hear Dr. Swetman, who is listed in "Who's Who in the World," speak on "Identifying Market; How to Decide Where to Send Your Manuscript."

Dr. Swetman is now professor emeritus at Nicholls University in Louisiana, and an amateur ecologist and licensed alligator hunter.

More than 500 of his poems, articles, short stories and plays have appeared in hundreds of academic quarterlies, journals, etc.

A Pulitzer Prize nominee for "Concerning Carpenters and Childhood Saints," Dr. Swetman has published six volumes of poetry. His accolades also include being a recipient of the Black Shop Haiku Festival Award in Yokosuka, Japan.

Dr. Swetman has led seminars for our own Writers Conference with students reporting how much they enjoyed his presentation and style.

The GCWA meets the fourth Thursday of each month in the college auditorium at 7 p.m.

Hancock-Pearl River Voiture 432-8/40

Hancock-Pearl River Voiture 432-8/40 hosted a nurses' training dinner January 27 at American Legion Post 77 in Waveland.

Voiture 432 gives six scholarships yearly to the Pearl River Community College Development Foundation for student nurses.

Assistance from Le Femmes Cabane 432 was acknowledged when President Amelia Killeen presented a $500 check to the Voiture's Chef de Garde Edgar Sauls.

"Through generous support of this scholarship program, we can only encourage in more hopeful students the reality of a college education," said Killeen.

On hand to accept the $1,125 check for the three spring semester scholarships were John Wilson, director of Nurses Training, Voiture and State; Ms. Charlotte Odom, director of Nurses Education; Dr. Ted Alexander, president of Pearl River College; Donna Wilson, executive director of School Programs; and students Cindy Stockstill, Diana Whisnaut and D. HOW TO BYPASS UNCLE SAM

Despite the changing tax laws, there's still a way to bypass federal, and sometimes state and local, taxes on interest income. Municipal Bond Funds offer excellent tax-free earnings. Let me show you how to spread your risk with these dependable funds. Call today.

Give your IRA a check-up.

Find out if it's working as hard as it can to provide for your retirement.

Are you sure...absolutely sure...that your present IRA is earning the best possible rate of return?

If you'd like to find out how "healthy" your present IRA program is, please stop by my office for a free, no-obligation IRA Check-Up.

And if you decide to transfer your IRA to a higher-yielding, more flexible, professionally-managed program, I'll show you the three easy steps you'll need to follow to make the change.

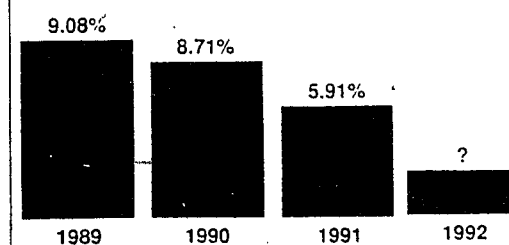

It's that simple.

I think the 15 minutes we'll spend together could be the most important investment you'll ever make.

ATTENTION CD OWNERS

The drastic decline in interest rates in the last year could mean a substantial cut in your income when you renew your CDs.

If you have a CD maturing, or would just like more information on investments that offer a high degree of safety and the potential for rising income, call or come by my office today.

WAVELAND

TOPS MS 233 Waveland met Tuesday, Feb. 18 at the Waveland Public Library. Tracy was the week's best loser; she lost 5 pounds. At the TOPS area meeting Feb. 10, we came home with three awards. Randal won third place, male; Catherine won second place for KOPS; and the chapter won third place in overall weight loss per member. Judy won the Valentine contest.

Chapter elections will be Feb. 25. The first meeting in March has been postponed to Wednesday, March 4, due to Mardi Gras.

Tops meets every Tuesday at the Waveland Public Library. Weigh-ins are from 5:30-6 p.m. with the meeting immediately following.

Anyone interested in losing weight sensibly and maintaining that weight loss is invited to visit one of the meetings. Call Charlotte at 467-5790 for information.

Beta Sigma Phi
XI Theta Chapter

XI Theta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, Pass Christian, held their monthly meeting Monday, Feb. 10 at the home of Sis Weston.

The meeting was opened by Edna Szymanski, president, with the 12 members present saying the opening ritual. The January minutes were read by Weston.

The treasurer's report was given by Joyce Sutherlin. She reported the profit from the 'Basket of Cheers' raffle held in December would be given to the Rotary's Doll and Toy Fund and the Volunteer Fire Department, both in Pass Christian, and to the Salvation Army, Gulfport.

Sutherlin was selected as the 1992 Valentine Queen for the sorority. She will be honored at a luncheon at Annie's Restaurant Wednesday, Feb. 26.

Next meeting will be Monday, March 9, 7 p.m. at the home of Effie Allen.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

BAY ST. LOUIS

TOPS MS 249 Bay St. Louis meets Wednesdays at the Hancock Medical Center meeting room. Weigh-ins are from 5:30 to 6 p.m. with the meeting following. Anyone interested in joining the group may call Frances 467-0640.

Pass Christian
Garden Club

The Pass Christian Garden Club will hold its monthly meeting Thursday, March 5 at 11 a.m. in the Hancock Bank Civic Center.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. E. N. (Betty) Throop of Gulfport, National Accredited and Master Flower Show Judge. She is past president of the Gulfport Garden Club and Beach Garden Society. She will present a program entitled "Flower Show Instructions." The public is invited to attend.

Plans for a style show/luncheon on March 18 and the annual Gulf Coast Council of Garden Club Pilgrimage in Pass Christian on March 26 will be finalized.

Hancock County Exchange Club

Recent Exchange Club activities have included a talk from Gulfview Elementary principal Donald North, who talked about his experience in the Gulf War; a speech by Hancock schools superintendent Myrna Bourgeois, who told of her plans for the district during her term; a visit from Exchange Club District director Marie Porter; and a $1,000 drawdown to raise money for the Family-Child Center. Photos are, clockwise from top right: North with an Exchange Club member in Saudi garb; Exchange Club president Julie Cannon (left) with Bourgeois; Porter; drawdown winners Mike and Lori Gemelli (also winning but not pictured were W.C. Fowler and Susan Curet); and drawdown chairman Barbara Lemon. (Photos by Bob Hubbard)

Kiln VFW Auxiliary
Post 6285

The February 18 meeting of the Kiln Auxiliary to VFW Post 6285 was held at the VFW hall followed by a covered dish supper.

President Estelle Depreo opened the meeting with 14 members present.

Susie Harmon, chaplain, read the opening prayer, and the Pledge of Allegiance was said by all members, followed by the singing of America the Beautiful. The roll of officers was called by the secretary, and the meeting was called to order.

The minutes were read for the January meeting, and Bessie Necaise gave the treasurer's report.

Members attending the Feb. 2 District I meeting held at the Biloxi VFW Post 2434 were Mildred Lee, Estelle Depreo, Cleo Dunhurst and Elus Depreo.

A petition concerning the Social Security Notch 1917-26 was signed by members and will be mailed to the President and Congress of the United States.

A $50 ad was given to the District I VFW convention to be held in Biloxi. April 1 is the day the auxiliary chose to entertain the veterans from the Gulfport VA Hospital and the veterans living in private homes and their sponsors, with a luncheon and social followed by an Easter egg hunt at the post home.

Mrs. Charlotte Mauffray of Bay St. Louis was guest at the meeting.

Next meeting will be March 17 at 7 p.m. at the post home.

Veterans of Foreign Wars
Theodore S. Price
Post 3253
Ladies Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary of VFW Post 3253 met at the post home Wednesday, Feb. 12.

The meeting was opened by president Audrey S. Heyd. Chaplain Ursula Favre read the opening prayer. The Pledge of Allegiance was said and the National Anthem was played, followed by a moment of silent prayer.

As the January meeting was cancelled due to inclement weather, the minutes of the December 1991 meeting were read and accepted.

The secretary read official communications, thank-you letters and committee reports. A card was received from the activity director for Hotel Reed Nursing Home thanking the auxiliary for sponsoring bingo games. The games are staged twice a month for the residents with prizes and refreshments. The games are supervised by the rehabilitation chairman, Hazel Wohlschlegel.

Treasurer Evelyn Sick gave financial reports for December 1991 and January 1992.

In honor of World War veterans, a covered dish dinner, sponsored by Post 3253 and Auxiliary members is scheduled March 15 at the post home. Final details will be discussed at the March 11 meeting.

The meeting adjourned with the closing prayer by the chaplain. 'God Bless America' was played, and all members joined with the singing. Refreshments were served.

A DIFFERENT VIEW

By Traci Bonney

Patterns

AJIELSPUHSRLWOMVQENS GYBOZU.

Can you see a pattern?
I'm sure if you look at it long enough you will see one. But leave that for now: I want you to read the rest of this.

Have you ever noticed how, if you stare at something long enough, a pattern will eventually emerge?

Who hasn't stared at a cloud and said, "That looks like a horse (or dragon, whale, angel, alien, whatever)."?

I've noticed that from where I sit in the office, two branches on a tree over on Main Street look like the fish symbol that early Christians used to identify themselves as followers of Jesus.

When I was a kid, I used to look at the little holes in the roof liner of my parents' car, and try to see faces, shapes, all sorts of stuff. After a while I had to stop, because my eyes would start to hurt.

There's a tree somewhere near Macon in Noxubee County that looks to me just like a Southern belle holding a parasol. I'm not kidding you; I noticed that several years ago when I lived in Columbus, and when I went up that way for vacation last summer, I saw the tree still looked like that.

I've seen patterns in wood panels, floor tiles, ceiling stucco
— all manner of things.

People seem to like patterns.
If something doesn't look like anything in particular, a person's brain will find some familiar pattern in the nothingness.
If the person can't find a recognizable pattern, he or she will most likely invent a pattern to fit the available information.

Hence the theory of evolution.

Anyway, I guess we humans need organization and familiarity in our lives. I think we don't deal well with things we don't recognize.

I guess that's why we look at clouds and see dolphins, or at wood grain and see faces.

But you know what? Sometimes it's good to look at a cloud and see nothing but a cloud.

(About the puzzle I gave you at the beginning of this column, here's a hint if you haven't gotten it by now: Eliminate the odd letters — first, third, fifth, etc.)

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

Bay-Waveland Garden Club

The February 13 meeting of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club was called to order by the president, Mrs. Donald Lowe.

Mrs. Clarence Ladner read the devotions, and the Pledge of Allegiance was led by the president.

Mrs. Roy Burkart, treasurer, gave her report, highlighting the success of the flea market Feb. 1 at the Garden Center.

Mrs. Thomas Murphree reported the beautification of the Bay High School courtyard began Feb. 15. Students are planting a large number of shrubs and trees that have been furnished by the school. As the garden club's representative on the County Beautification Committee, she also reported on the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce "Litter-free by '93" campaign. It will kick off March 21 with the goal of cleaning up the area for the Spring Pilgrimage, which will be March 24.

Also pilgrimage chairman Murphree distributed pilgrimage brochures.

Lowe reported on an Arbor Day ceremony Feb. 12 at the Waveland Library. A magnolia tree was planted by Girl Scout Troop 404.

Dorothea Martin gave a horticulture report titled, "Sinister Garden," listing common plants that are poisonous.

A miniature Cattleya orchid was exhibited by Mrs. Roy Burkart;
a jewel orchid and an African violet by Lowe.

Mrs. Julian Lorenzen gave a report on the activities of local feeder birds, in particular the cardinal.

Mrs. Lelyn Nybo announced the Spring Flower Show will be held at the May meeting.

Bay St. Louis Garden of the Month is that of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eagan, 640 North Beach; Waveland Garden of the Month went to Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman, 706 South Beach; and the Commercial Beautification Award to Trendsetters, Hwy. 90, Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. John Holmes, registration chairman for Deep South Regional convention in Biloxi at the d'Iberville, March 11-14, encouraged members to attend workshops and activities planned. She also announced Flower Show School II will be at the Ramada Inn in Long Beach, May 5-7.

The program was presented by county agent H. Randall Smith on "Environmentally Correct Gardening." Safe use of chemicals, commercially prepared fungicides, pesticides and insecticides. He also promoted Deep South's theme "Tough Plants for Tough Times," plants requiring little or no maintenance.

Hostesses were introduced by Mrs. Clarence Ladner, hostess chairman: Mrs. Klaus Kueck, J. R. Authenreith, Charles Brauner, L. L. Martin, Elmore Gibbens, B. L. Ramsey and Joseph S. Crowley. Centerpiece by Mrs. John Holmes.

Stennis schedules education workshops

John C. Stennis Space Center will host two upcoming workshops for teachers of all grade levels from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Teacher Resource Center, Building 1200.

Fundamentals of Aerodynamics will be held Wednesday, Feb. 26, and Living and Working in Space will be Thursday, Feb. 27. Both workshops will present guest speaker Dr. Norm Poff, associate professor at Oklahoma State University assigned to NASA

Headquarters.

Through the Fundamentals of Aerodynamics Workshop, teachers will be introduced to the basic concepts of aerodynamics and their application to subjects such as science, physics and math. Poff will discuss the basics of aircraft and the aeronautic vocabulary as well as methods for teaching these concepts. In addition, John Wilson, SSC aerospace education specialist, will cover glider construction and windtunnel use through hands-on experiments.

The Living and Working in Space Workshop will give teachers a look at astronaut life in space. Presentations will include the design and operation of the Space Shuttle as well as astronaut hygiene in space. In addition, participants will be involved in several hands-on activities directed by John Wilson and Sandy Wilson, coordinator of the Teacher Resource Center at Stennis.

To make reservations for these workshops, or for a complete list of workshops offered at Stennis during the spring of 1992, call the Teacher Resource Center at (601) 688-3338.

Bailey named Senior of Month

Art Bailey was named Senior of the Month for November at St. Stanislaus High School.

The award, which is voted on by the faculty members at St. Stanislaus, recognizes seniors who display in a unique manner the character traits of sincerity, enthusiasm, family spirit, involvement, observance and responsibility.

Bailey is currently president of the SSC band, a member of the Drama Club, and an honor roll student. He has been selected Student of the Day three times.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Bailey of Waveland.

OUR NATION'S LEADERS WERE ALWAYS LED BY GOD'S GUIDANCE

The leaders of our nation have always had to face many seemingly insurmountable problems, both at home and abroad; so many, in fact, that we wonder why they ever wanted the job. Moreover, no matter what solutions they proposed, they always received a mixture of praise and criticism at best. However, since they knew in advance to expect this, it is all the more to their credit that they were willing to take on the often thankless assignment. They differed in their philosophies and in many other ways, but they all had one thing in common: they prayed for God's guidance to help them make the right decisions, knowing that their actions would affect our nation's destiny for years to come. At our House of Worship, concerned with only the destiny of our own families, we would nonetheless do well to follow their example.

Let us have faith and let us dare to do our duty as we understand it.
— Abraham Lincoln

Coast Episcopal slates registration

Coast Episcopal School announced registration for new students will open Tuesday, Feb. 25 for the 1992-93 school year.

Coast Episcopal Elementary School, 912 S. Beach, Bay St. Louis, offers classes for students in pre-school, kindergarten, and first through sixth grades. Extended care is available for working parents after the regular class day ends at 3 p.m.

Coast Episcopal High School, for seventh through 12th grades, is located on Espy Avenue in Pass Christian.

Transportation to both campuses is available from Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Diamondhead, Pass Christian, Long Beach and other points along the Coast.

Coast Episcopal School (originally called Christ Episcopal Day School) was founded by the Reverend Charles R. Johnson in 1950. Since its inception, the school has considered its mission that of educating the whole child—intellectually, creatively, physically, emotionally and spiritually.

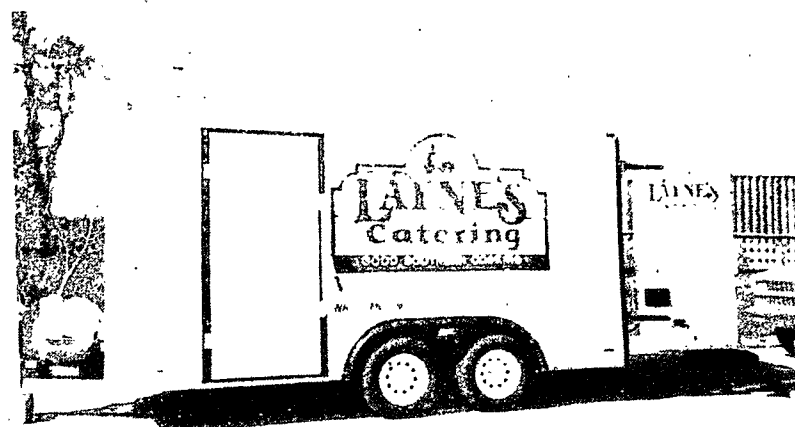

A college preparatory curriculum, as well as extensive athletic and extracurricular activities are offered. For information, contact the elementary school at 467-5125 or the high school at 452-9442.
